AERIAL

The Official Newspaper of
J. M. ATHERTON

In retrospect, if one is not a pure solipsist, when scanning the scintillous leaves of our most humble opus, it can and should be said that this prodigious achievement ought not to be slighted but rather to be compared with those which did reach the epitome of Palladian style. With no contumacy is it presented to you rather truly in propria persona that in its twofold objective—to contain in part of both levity and a means by which all nostalgic moments of this phase of our existence may be recaptured—it may be propitious. If these thoughts should prove to contain verisimilitude, then it shall be called the brightest jewel in our school's diadem. For it is the TORCH.

Hello Joppy,
 I wish you many happiness
 and think you were meant to see what you did in 1906
 yearbook. Next year when you find out what homework is,
 I will quietly laugh at you from now when I shall be living in parts.

happiness in the world.

Mac,
Well, we've almost
made it through Algebra II.
I never thought we would!
(especially me)
Good luck next year,
Marilyn

Mac,
Thanks for helping me through Algebra. I would never made it if you hadn't talked to me.
Good Luck next year!

Mac,
Most of school has
been fun this year.
I hope you have had
as good a time as I.
